

 Galloway v. StateMiss., 1990.

Supreme Court of Mississippi.
Kenneth Lavon GALLOWAY

v.

STATE of Mississippi.
No. 89-KA-0918.

Dec. 19, 1990.

Defendant was convicted in the Circuit Court, Hinds County, William F. Coleman, J., of capital murder, and he appealed. The Supreme Court, Roy Noble Lee, C.J., held that statutory 270-day speedy trial period commenced to run when defendant, who had originally been arraigned on indictment for murder less than capital, was reindicted for capital murder.

Affirmed.
